Get Onboard The Gospel Train!

Fernandina Beach, FL. February 2, 2012.

Joey and Jeanie, Amelia Island's Christian singer-songwriter duo, release new Gospel/hymns CD titled "I Grew Up On Gospel" and film short "The Gospel Train".

The album is chock full of familiar gospel/hymns and bookended with two amazing original songs. Joey and Jeanie have created a rich offering in this album. Included are dozens of the talented local musical community - musicians of all ages bringing their instrumental and background vocal skills. The result - listeners of all ages experience a joyful journey in song. The CD is a celebration that touches your heart.

To sweeten the project the original title track "I Grew up on Gospel" was made into a four-minute music video titled "The Gospel Train". This video, which is more accurately a short film, is a must see. You won't stop smiling as the story unfolds. The visuals draw you in as the music, a toe-tapping, knee-slapping remix of old gospel/hymns wrapped in a catchy chorus, stays with your mind and spirit.

The making of "The Gospel Train" video was a journey in itself. The creators of this project read like a who's who in American film. Director Dave D'Ardenne, with an extensive career at ABC in New York, has worked with Michael Jackson, Oprah Winfrey, Barbara Walters and many more. Director of Photography, Don Flynn, has been in movie production since 1993 and has been a cornerstone for regional productions - a resume of superior film work. Producer-writer-casting director-scriptwriter, Dr. Nadine Vaughan, is also a filmmaker, author, psychologist, stage and film writer and executive producer of Nativeland Productions. Creative consultant, Rick Traum, is an Emmy Award-winning Producer and entertainment executive consultant. He has worked with Johnny Carson, Saturday Night Live, Radio City Music Hall, and Disney. Yes, a dream team of creative professionals were attracted to create this wonderful time piece.

Joey and Jeanie are based in Fernandina Beach, FL. Singing and songwriting has been the heart song of these music professionals throughout their life. God called them into a ministry with their gifts. They began by serving in the praise band at Memorial United Methodist Church several years ago. Four years ago they were led to start a music/prayer outreach at their local Farmer's Market. With a treasured group of supporters, these singer-songwriters, and founders of Florida non-profit "Crowns of Creation Ministries", found themselves on a journey up and down the East Coast. They appear at a variety of venues bringing their message, songs, and mission of "stirring up goodness, peace, and joy from the Holy Spirit."

When they are in town, Joey and Jeanie appear at the Farmer's Market, on 7th & Center Streets in Fernandina Beach, Saturday mornings from 10:00-12:00. They welcome everyone to come by and say hello.

So what's next for Joey and Jeanie journey? A full and expanding schedule of music ministry outings and a new recording project. They encourage you to join them on Facebook. Be sure to visit their website at www.joeyandjeanie.com to experience The Gospel Train video. Support their ministry and Get Onboard!
